3. What is a cookie?

But the only personal information a cookie can contain is information you supply yourself. A cookie can't read data off your hard disk or read cookie files created by other sites. Wet Women uses cookies to tell when a user is a repeat visitor and to let us know how the user found the site. They also allow us to automatically link users to their personalized accounts. When you create an account, Wet Women uses a cookie to store a unique, random code. Wet Women only uses this code to identify you anonymously in our database and to track the pages you visit on our site. This helps us better understand and improve areas of the site that our users find valuable. Wet Women also uses this code to enable you to enter various services as a member and to visit member-restricted areas of the site without having to log in each time.

If you've set your browser to warn you before accepting cookies, you will receive the warning message with each cookie. Though some of the services require the use of cookies, visitors to WET WOMENINTERNATIONAL.COM and WOMENSWATERSPORTS.COM always have the option of disabling cookies via their browser preferences.
